Alder Hey Autism Spectrum Pathway

Information for Parents and Carers

This leaflet is about children referred to the Alder Hey Autism Spectrum Disorder Pathway for an assessment of Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD).

Please note that a referral to the ASD Pathway does not mean that your child will automatically receive a diagnosis of ASD.

Your child's journey on the Pathway will take time. How long will be different for each child. The journey will also be tailored to your child's individual needs.

Who we are

We are a team of professionals that consists of:

- Neurodevelopmental Practitioners/ Specialist Nurses
- Developmental Paediatricians
- Psychiatrists
- Speech and Language Therapists
- Clinical Psychologists
- Assistant Psychologists
- A Pathway Coordinator

ASD Assessment

ASD assessments can take place in your child's nursery/school or at our clinic.

As part of the assessment process the team needs to gather information about your child from a variety of sources.

Depending on your child's needs, their ASD assessment may include:

- A neurodevelopmental history
- Single assessment with a clinician
- Joint assessment with more than one clinician
- Developmental Paediatrician assessment
- Speech and Language Therapy assessment
- Clinical Psychology assessment
- A school observation
- A school questionnaire
- The Autism Diagnostic Observation Schedule (ADOS) assessment

Outcome of Assessment

Once the assessments that your child needs are done, a decision about whether they have ASD or not will be made.

The team will tell you the outcome in the joint assessment or in a feedback session.

The feedback session is to ask any questions you may have about the outcome. You will also get information about ASD & local support if you need it.

After feedback you will be sent a report about the assessment and the outcome.

Then you and your child will be discharged from the ASD Pathway.

Support at Alder Hey whilst on the ASD Pathway

You can go to Informal Advisory Sessions if your child is on the Pathway.

The team can advise you on: sleep, eating, communication, behavior & sensory issues.

Sessions are 30 minutes. You will need to book a space. They are every Tuesday 9.30am-12.30pm in the Department of Developmental Paediatrics at Alder Hey.

Call us on (0151) 252 5252 to book a session.
