Toys

Information for parents and carers

Introduction

At Alder Hey hospital we know how important toys are to all of our patients. We know they can play a critical role to their recovery and how bringing a favourite toy into hospital can make all the difference.

Unfortunately toys that have not be cleaned properly can become a source of infection.

To help us minimise the risk of cross infection we ask you to:

- Ensure any toys you bring into hospital are clean. All soft toys should be machine washed before bringing them into hospital. If your child is here for a long stay please wash their toys each week.
- Keep the number of toys brought into hospital to a minimum. This will allow us to effectively clean your child's bed area.
- Don't share your child's toys with other children unless they are group toys such as games.
- If your child has played with any hospital toys in their bed space, please give them back to ward staff to clean rather than putting them back into the general store/playarea.
- Please inform ward staff/Play leader if you are concerned about the cleanliness or condition of any Hospital toys.

Please help us to keep infections to a minimum.
